

We've never had two consecutive drouth years in Hempstead county, at least in any time here going back to 1920, and if I were a wagering man I'd bet this one will be broken up before it becomes a total disaster. Nevertheless, County Agent Oliver L. Adams' roundup story on the effect of the current drouth in yesterday's Star was a soul-searing report.

There's not much consolation in the thought that the land lying west of the East Texas-Southwest Arkansas area is in far worse shape than our own. The Western lands have already been visited by total disaster, but then they have very little surface water with which to remedy the situation. You no doubt saw the newspaper picture of the Rio Grande with a bone-dry river bed at Laredo, Texas. When a world-famous river goes dry it is indeed grim for the people who live in that region — and most of the lands west of us have no rivers to begin with.

But our situation in Arkansas is quite different. I assume that the popular quotation "Arkansas has the most miles of navigable rivers of any state in the nation," is basically correct. At least we have so many rivers and so much water in certain periods of the year that floods are a perpetual threat and nuisance.

And yet I say, we can't find much consolation in the plight of the people west of us who are worse off than we are because there is virtually no known remedy for their trouble but we do have a remedy — we simply never have gotten around to using it. And this is proving a serious error in public judgment, for which we are now paying and will continue to pay until we resolve to do something about it.

We have more than ample surface water supplied here in Arkansas, and particularly here in the southwestern corner, but those supplies have never been regulated by a long-range program to serve land conservation.

What we need, of course, is the systematic construction of dams and reservoirs, aqueducts, pipe lines, and pumping stations, so that our annual rainfall can be stored up and then metered out to the land as needed during the dry months.

The cost is pointless. Water has no price. Without water we have no meat or grain — and eventually would have neither animals nor human beings.

The cost of guaranteeing water supplies throughout the year has never been considered a true debt, but rather an investment in the basic value of the land on which we live. It was so regarded by the ancient Egyptians, the Romans, and by our own federal government when it rehabilitated some of the Western desert with dams, reservoirs, pumping stations, and canals.

Now today we see the strange paradox of America straining herself to make the natural desert bloom with vegetation while drouth is permitted to scourge the normally productive lands of the South and Middle West. It looks as though our people and their public planners have been behaving like a lot of headline-readers — gloating over a few spectacular events but completely missing the real news on which our fortunes and very lives depend.

Of course the first thing that will occur to you is the dormant Millwood dam project, approved by the Corps of Engineers for flood control on Little River — to create the largest reservoir in this part of the country and offering unlimited water supply through the dry summer months. But the Millwood dam won't be reactivated unless some of the folks on the land come up with an irrigation project, perhaps coupled with some of our cities which also need water, and show the federal government there will be some maintenance revenue in return for a construction cost estimated a couple of years ago at 48 millions or more.

If we lived out in the Western desert we'd have done this very thing years ago. And in view of the uncertain crop and pasture results around here the last couple of years I am beginning to think it's time we called everybody in and discussed the draft of a proposition which the federal government might be expected to consider favorably.

We won't get this for nothing. But land with adequate water supplies is worth more than what we have now — for sure.

Minister's Wife Declared Insane

SAN DIEGO, Calif. —The wife of a Baptist minister, Mrs. Betty Louise Griffith, 27, who police say admitted she tried to beat her two baby daughters to death with an electric iron has been declared insane.

She was committed to the Patton State Hospital yesterday by Superior Judge L. N. Turrentine on the recommendation of two psychiatrists.

Hope, Health Officials Talk Hospital Funds

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Officials of a proposed 80-bed Hempstead County Hospital at Hope met here today with state health officials to discuss a possible allocation from federal hospital funds granted to Arkansas.

Most of the money already has been earmarked for the University of Arkansas Medical Center and St. Vincent's Infirmary here.

The question of just how much money Arkansas will receive in grants from the federal government has not been decided.

Two bills in Congress would give Arkansas varying amounts. Under a House bill Arkansas would receive $1,095,383. Under a Senate bill, it would receive $1,680,935. The Senate approved its bill yesterday.

Rep. Oren Harris of El Dorado was successful in having action stopped on the House bill "while they are working out a compromise at Little Rock." Harris has previously succeeded in having an amendment tacked on the bill which would prevent more than 80 per cent of a state's allocation from being spent in one area.

At an emergency session Monday the State Hospital Advisory Board tried to reach a compromise but decided to postpone action until the Hempstead delegation is heard.

Dr. J. T. Herron, head of the State Health Department, said the problem had been discussed with St. Vincent's officials but no decision was reached. He said "it's conceivable that each institution could relinquish portion of its allocation to the Hempstead County Hospital."

The Hope unit would cost an estimated $855,000 of which federal funds would furnish about $500,000. The county would provide the remainder.

Bodcaw Making Big Plans for Homecoming

The gala event of the Bodcaw Alumni Homecoming Sunday, July 12, has kept all hands busy. The association in cooperation with the Bodcaw Improvement Club has completed a new park on grounds recently purchased by the school.

New picnic tables, outdoor fireplaces for cooking and lights make the area very inviting to one to relax in the cool shades and enjoy the fish fry that will follow the afternoon activities.

Registration will begin at 2 p.m. and the program of visiting and entertaining will follow and will be over at 5 p.m. so that everyone may enjoy the fish.

The arrangements committee, under the leadership of Perry McCargo and the Community Projects Committee of the Improvement club headed by Bill Stewart, has directed over eighty days of volunteer labor in setting the permanent stage for the homecoming.

Horace Fuller, Alumni President, urges everyone to send their reservations immediately to Mrs. Ardis Butler, Bodcaw, Ark., secretary-treasurer of the association, and reminds them that the big Sunday night singing that is being held prior to the opening of the singing school will follow the fish fry.

Both events are open to all.

The Fat Man Yearns Less to Be a Rancher Than He Does to Be 11-Years-Old Again

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP) — The fat man leaned back in the resort chair and looked out across the calm and peaceful sea.

He was thankful he was all alone and could just wonder about little things—such as, how many waves at that very moment wrinkled the ocean between him and England. A thousand? A million? Maybe two million? Who cared?

The next second a small, bare-kneed girl of about 11 galloped up, her horsetail hair flying behind her, and collapsed into the chair beside him.

The fat man closed his eyes, hoping she would go away, but when he opened them again she was staring at him, broodingly.

"Are you a rancher?" she asked.

"No, indeed," said the fat man, with a feeling of intense satisfaction. "Why?"

CHARGED — Army Sgt. Casmer Mexias and his Japanese wife Ayakao, were charged with child neglect after their two sons, Michael, 6, and Casmer, 7, were found bound, gagged and lashed to a bunk in their Pacific Grove, Calif., trailer home. Mexias told police "I play with the children like this all the time." Profits Tax Extension Gets Committee Nod

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Ways and Means Committee today approved President Eisenhower's proposal for a six-month extension of the excess profits tax.

Committee members reported the vote was 16 to 9. It was a smashing triumph for the administration, after weeks of delay and often bitter maneuvering of the bill.

The committee approved a straight six months' extension, to end Jan. 1, killing all efforts to amend or soften the tax.

Foes of the extension made a last ditch try to head off the administration by attempting to tack on a cut in personal income taxes to take effect Oct. 1.

Rep. Cooper, (Tenn.), senior Democrat on the committee, announced later that seven of the ten Democratic members supported the six-months profits tax extension.

That meant nine of the 15 Republicans stood by the Eisenhower program.

Newport Abolishes Police Chief Job

NEWPORT (UP) — Suspended police Chief John C. Moore who was asked to quit and refused to do so was without a job today. His post was abolished.

The Newport City Council abolished the office of police chief by a vote of 4 to 2 to end a month-long squabble between the council and the city civil service commission.

The city council said the action was an "economy move." Moore was suspended for 90 days last May 22 after a civil service hearing at which he was found guilty of violating city civil service regulations.

He was asked to quit and refused.

13 New Polio Cases in State

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Arkansas Health Department yesterday reported 13 new cases of infantile paralysis in the state last week. There were 10 reported the week before.

The Department said this brings the total so far this year to 67, compared to the 47 during the same period last year.

Two Buildings Condemned by Hope Council

Hope City Council last night passed an ordinance condemning two buildings as detrimental to public welfare and ordered them to be razed within thirty days.

The buildings were listed as 1308 North Hazel Street and 1323½ on West Fourth Street. The ordinance provides that if the owners fail to comply with the ordinance that the city will have the building torn down at the expense of the owners.

In the matter of parking meters the council voted to levy a 50c fine on all persons charged with overparking regardless of the time or where they are from. The motion was made by Joe Jones and seconded by B. L. Rutledge.

Clyde Zinn told the group that the city's old standby well has gone out and that a new water well is necessary. Dwight Ridgill made a motion seconded by Joe Jones that the city hire C. O. Thomas to make a survey on the cost of a new well. The motion was passed.

Joe Jones made a motion, seconded by Dwight Ridgill that payment of $2,716 on the debt service school district warrant be paid. Motion carried.

The council also passed two other ordinances setting up Street Improvement District 29 and 30, and agreed to replace E. C. Sullivan with C. R. Hamilton as commissioner of District No. 14 on a motion by Joe Jones and seconded by Charles Tarpley.

Alderman Brown told the group that in opening Edgewood Street some land would have to be condemned and submitted a motion to hire C. O. Thomas to make a survey. Joe Jones seconded the approved motion.

The group agreed to resurface the tennis courts at Fair Park. The motion was submitted by Jesse Brown and seconded by Joe Jones.

Cotton Plantings Cut Short, May Solve Problem

By OVID A. MARIN

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Agriculture Department reported today that plantings of cotton this year are one per cent under last year. This indicated that drought and other unfavorable conditions in growing areas may keep the crop from becoming a surplus problem.

While the reduction is not as much as the 13 per cent that had been requested by Secretary of Agriculture Benson, it could well produce a crop below the top goal of 12,000,000 bales set by the secretary.

In appealing for a smaller crop Benson told farmers before planting time that if they produced more than 12,000,000 bales, he probably would be required under terms of farm law to invoke right marketing quotas on the 1954 crop to keep supplies from getting larger.

The department said the 246th.

Another Phase of Fiscal Code Ruled Illegal

By LEON HATCH

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The attorney general's office held today that the new Fiscal Code cannot curtail the constitutional authority granted to boards of state institutions.

The opinion applied specifically to the board of the Arkansas Schools for the Blind and Deaf. However, it apparently would affect boards of other institutions as well.

Toy Bosson of Little Rock, board chairman of the schools, asked among other things whether the board still could purchase materials and supplies, insurance etc.

In reply, Chief Assistant Atty. Gen. John R. Thompson pointed to Amendment 35 to the Arkansas Constitution which says that powers of boards at the time it became effective in 1943, could not be curtailed unless the affected institution were abolished or consolidated with another.

Thompson pointed to several sections of the statutes setting out the board's authority to make contracts, employ and discharge teachers and in general supervise the two institutions.

Since the Constitution is a higher legal authority than statutory law, the 1953 legislative act setting up the Fiscal Code cannot remove or curtail any authority the board enjoyed when Amendment 35 was adopted, said Thompson.

Heat Prevails But Rain in Some Areas

By United Press

A cool front kept temperatures mild from the Atlantic coast through the Midwest today under generally pleasant skies.

But in the steaming Southwest, temperatures again soared over 100 degrees and the hot humidity reached northward into the eastern plateau.

Some light showers fell in the Texas Panhandle yesterday and along the Red River valley but forecasters said they were "not general."

The high reported was 108 degrees at Presidio, Tex. It was 106 at Wink, 105 at Mineral Wells, and 101 at Roswell, N. M.

The weather bureau said rainfall was reported along the Ohio Valley today and some widely scattered showers fell in the East.

Early morning temperatures ranged from 91 at Las Vegas, Nev., to 45 at Grandbury, Wis. Chicago recorded 25 inches of rain shortly after midnight and showers were expected to return to the Midwest by Thursday.

Cooling breezes also flowed over the Pacific Northwest but no rainfall was reported.

Arkansas' drought marched into its 51st day this morning, thumping its nose at light, scattered showers that hit most of the state yesterday.

It was a half an inch of rain in most places, but it wasn't enough to break the drought that has beaten down crops and pastures since May 19.

Highest rainfall totals yesterday were Antoine, 1.82; Hope, 1.43; Mt. Ida, 1.30 and Arkadelphia, .95.

Reds Indicate Readiness to Negotiate Details of Final Armistice

Thousands of East Berliners Stage Sitdown Strike, Fearful Russians Meet One Demand

News Briefs

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower said today this government looks forward to and intends to work for the peaceful reunification of Korea.

The President declined at his news conference, however, to say whether he has received any indication that South Korean President Syngman Rhee might be willing to go along with the proposed armistice.

WASHINGTON (UP) — The state of Arkansas today filed suit challenging the constitutionality of Congress' action in awarding control of the so-called fidelities to constabularies.

Tom Gentry, Arkansas attorney general, filed his suit in federal court demanding that the law be declared null and void.

JAMHORE CITY, Calif. (AP) — Films of the Boy Scouts' third National Jamboree opening here next week will be shown by the State Department all over the world as an example of how youth functions in a free democracy.

This was revealed yesterday by Dr. Arthur Schuck, chief Scout executive, who arrived from New York to take charge of the jamboree.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Defense Wilson has told senators actual defense spending this fiscal year will be 42 million dollars more than last, even though the spending rate will diminish each quarter.

This became known today as a showdown near the Senate Appropriations Committee over a cutback in new defense funds, with most of it hitting the air force.

Wilson's new estimates apply to actual spending during the year rather than new or past appropriations by Congress. Frequently funds appropriated for aircraft, ships, guns and similar military hardware must be spent over a period of years. It takes that long to build many of these items.

MOSCOW (AP) — Pravda today called Syngman Rhee a "pitiful hireling" of the U. S. and charged certain American interests are using Rhee to delay an armistice in Korea.

The Communist newspaper said there was a connection between the breakdown of the armistice talks and the Berlin disturbances of June 17.

Using the strongest language yet seen in Soviet press discussions of Korea, Pravda called the present U. S. negotiations with Rhee "an unworthy comedy" that "can deceive only those who want to be deceived."

The newspaper asked: "Who can believe American generals and diplomats are allegedly 'powerless' to hold back this rampant adventure?"

"For three years nothing was heard of Syngman Rhee. For three years all business in South Korea was decided solely by the American commander in chief. At the same time Syngman Rhee was hiding somewhere in the outskirts of Seoul."

By TOM REEDY

BERLIN (AP) — Thousands of restless East Berlin industrial workers staged sitdown strikes today. The Russians, apparently fearful of another bloody revolt, met one of the workers' demands by announcing restoration of factory travel.

The workers were demanding also that hundreds of their comrades arrested in the anti-Communist rebellion of June 17 be released from jail. The workers staged the sitdown strikes in Soviet-operated plants and the "people's owned" mills and factories.

Radio Berlin said the elevated and subway trains would run on normal schedules tomorrow and all persons would be permitted to cross the border in either direction without special passes.

This removed the last restriction placed on the east sector of the divided city by the Red army under armistice law imposed after the June 17 rioting.

West Berlin Police Chief Johannes Stamn in reporting the strikes said the men were demanding release of all workers arrested in the June 17 revolt.

Earlier reports of the sitdowns touched off speculation that a new workers' march on the government would materialize, much in the manner of the June 17 uprising which shook the Red world and brought Soviet armored legions pouring into East Berlin.

This time, however, the East Germans apparently tried "the peaceful sitdown protest rather than risk further bloody clashes with Communist tanks."

Despite the new strike reports, East Berlin's police headquarters announced over Red Radio Berlin that free traffic between the city's East and West sectors would be permitted starting tomorrow. Since the June 17 revolt, traffic had been permitted only to persons with special passes.

However, Reply to Clark Has Conditions

By SAM SUMMERLIN

SEOUL (AP) — The Communists said today they are ready to negotiate the final details of a Korean armistice even though South Korea objects violently.

A letter from the Red high command replying to Gen. Mark Clark's June 20 proposal to sign an armistice now was delivered by liaison officers in a five-minute meeting at Panmunjom.

It laid down what appeared to be some tough conditions for Communist acceptance of a truce negotiated in two years of hard bargaining. But observers said, the Reds might waive some of those when the talks resume.

There was no indication, however, that stubborn President Syngman Rhee of South Korea would accept a truce which fails to guarantee unification of his war-battered nation.

In Washington, a high government official said a truce "has got to happen." He indicated the administration would go to great lengths to obtain an armistice although no formula has been found to meet Rhee's objections.

He said the Red move has created a new crisis.

The Reds said the U. N. command must: (1) "Make effective steps" to assure South Korean compliance with armistice terms; (2) recover 27,000 anti-Communist North Koreans who prisoners set free on orders of President Rhee last month; and (3) "shoulder the burden of the war."

Chinese Renew Charge After Severe Setback

By JOHN RANDOLPH

SEOUL, Thursday (AP) — A Chinese Redball unit — up to 1,000 men — opened a new attack shortly before last midnight on Arrowhead Ridge where South Koreans had defeated them in a 40-hour western front battle which ended yesterday.

The Red assault, met by the victory-flushed South Korean Second Division, raged on into the pre-dawn hours today.

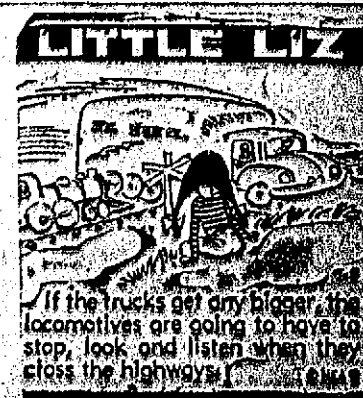

The fighting broke a brief lull which developed after U. S. and South Korean infantrymen had smashed onslaughts opened at 10:45 p. m. Monday by 6,000 Reds against Arrowhead and Fork-corn Hill. Those vital points were 40 to 45 miles north of Seoul, overlooking the strategic Cheron valley.

The battle, which opened at 10:45 p. m. Monday, dropped to a sporadic stage this morning as Allied infantrymen crept through an intense Chinese barrage to rout out the last Red survivors.

Troops of the ROK 2nd Division had just about cleared off their position on Arrowhead Ridge by noon but the U. S. 7th Division still was working on small knots of Chinese who have held up in old bunkers on the western slope of Pork Chop Hill.

Southwest of Forkchop, a new action flared as the Communists set a m d neighboring Outpost Berlin and East Berlin just before midnight Tuesday. Heavy artillery fire punctuated the attacks.

Rocked back after dawn, the Reds regrouped and surrounded East Berlin briefly, but Allied defenders sent the assault force reeling again by noon and secured their positions.

Now He's Down, Now He's Up—and Raborn Decisions Murdock in Coliseum Mat Show

TOP—The man with the mustache and chin-whiskers, Frank Murdock of Waxahachie, Texas, has Billy Raborn, Jr., of Augusta, Ga., on the floor in this picture of last week's initial wrestling program at the Third District Stock Show Coliseum arena.

BOTTOM — But in this photo Raborn has come off the floor and thrown Murdock over his shoulder — significantly enough, because Raborn finally won the match with two out of three falls. Referee Tommy Peterson of Tulsa, Okla., keeps a sharp eye on the proceedings.

Florida Snook
By AL McCLANE
Fishing Editor

This may be the "off" season for Florida tourists but it is the beginning of Florida's top fishing period. And in one day's fishing I caught pompano, ladyfish, mackerel, bluefish, sea trout and jack crevalle.

Ray Harmon of Riviera, showed me a snook bar he had all stacked out. More light-tackle record snook have been caught here than any place on the map.

Actually, this fishing is unique in that fish are in very shallow water where you can cast to them individually, either with flies, plugs, or spoons. This isn't possible on most snook grounds as old "Spanish moss," the South's Number 2 salt-water gopherfish is used only to the sea trout in pounds taken, are nocturnal feeders.

We went into the lee of an island. Ray tossed a mullet type surface plug, and your agent heaved a gold wobbling spoon. I hooked sea trout, a ladyfish, a jack crevalle and a few minutes later, a school of blues flashed across the surface. It was a real picnic.

When a snook finally hit, he was a strong one. The fish grabbed my spoon and walked right along the surface with his gill flaps wide open. He wasn't more than a 12-pounder, but the line snapped like a string.

Another one broke off before I changed spoons on my spinning reel. I keep thinking that a six-pound line is practical for this type of fishing, but when I rigged up with eight-pound test no more fish popped free. That seems to be the right size monofilament for all but the largest salt water species.

Oil Industry Sticks to Price Hike

WASHINGTON (UP) — Big oil companies stuck by their price in response today despite a congressional threat to seek enactment of strong federal controls on the industry.

H. G. Burke, Jr., executive vice president of Standard Oil Co. and James H. Baker, president of Humble Oil & Refining Co. joined the parade of industry witnesses defending the price hike before the House Commerce Committee.

Rep. John W. Heggston (D-Mass.), a committee member, charged that the increases were unjustified and said he would press for enactment of federal controls unless "there is a change of attitude very soon."

He did not specify what kind of controls.

The series of increases last month have sent retail gasoline prices up as much as three cents a gallon in some places.

Heggston charged that the oil firms were promoting another inflationary price spiral hampering the Eisenhower administration's efforts to "get some economic sense into the country."

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER and JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP) — Red willingness to go forward promptly with final truce arrangements brought to a new peak of crisis today the Korean armistice negotiations.

A top-ranking government official said a truce "has got to happen" but conceded no formal truce had been accepted by North Korean President Syngman Rhee.

The high official evidently was expressing an administration determination to go to great lengths to obtain an armistice.

It was reported these might include an appeal to Britain and France to join in some form of security guarantee to South Korea which would be satisfactory to them.

There's final attitude about the extent of his opposition to the proposed truce has not yet been ruled down as far as official Washington knows. In the circumstances two key questions apparently remain unanswered.

Cotton Planting

1000 acres of cotton were under cultivation July 1. This would produce a crop of slightly more than 10 million bales if the acre yields reached the high average of the past 10 years. But the department's description of the unfavorable conditions, including the drought in the Southwest, raised the possibility that acre yields might be sharply reduced this year resulting in a crop much less than the 10-year average.

The secretary has until Oct. 15 to make a decision on controls. By that time, the crop will have reached the harvesting stage.

The average on July 1 compared with 24,022,000 in cultivation a year ago and 22,020,000 for the ten-year (1942-51) July 1 average.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Agriculture Department today reported that 24,018,000 acres of cotton were in cultivation on July 1.

This compares with 24,022,000 in cultivation a year ago and 22,020,000 for the ten-year (1942-51) July 1 average.

The department made no forecast on cotton production, but said the acre yield be equal to the ten-year average, the crop would be about 13,047,000 bales of 500 pounds gross weight.

Last year's crop was 15,138,000 bales and the ten-year average production was 15,144,000.

Because of mounting supplies and declining export markets, Secretary of Agriculture Benson had urged farmers to plant 18 per cent less land to cotton this year than last. In other words, he had urged a July 1 acreage of about 20,000,000 acres and a crop of 12,000,000 to 12,500,000 bales.

The secretary said a crop in excess of this amount might well create a surplus that would require him to invoke acreage allotments and marketing quotas to restrict production in 1954.

The first official estimate of the size of this year's crop will be made Aug. 10.

Anticipating this year's production will be a carryover from last year's crop of slightly more than 100,000 bales.

On July 1 Missouri had 515,000 acres in cultivation which is 104 per cent of the July 1, 1952 acreage.

Arkansas had 1,885,000 acres in cultivation July 1. This is 99 per cent of the acreage a year ago.
